

Celebrate
Freedom to Read Week

with the
Canadian Literature Centre & the Writers Guild of Alberta

When: March 1, 2012 at 7 pm

Where: Law Centre (231/237), University of Alberta

Renowned author, Greg Hollingshead, joins his former writing student and Edmonton Journal columnist, Paula Simons, for a conversation on her experiences as a local journalist who has received both acclaim and criticism for her columns. The two literary personalities will also discuss how Freedom to Read Week is connected with freedom of expression and challenges both novelists and journalists face once their work is published. There will be time for questions and socializing at the end of the discussion.
